Stained Glass and Illustration

I design each glass piece and make them using the copper foil stained glass technique developed by Louis Comfort Tiffany in the 19th century. I make simple decorative glass figures of birds and animals and also landscapes and beach scenes using a collage of found items from the local beaches and semi-precious stones. I love contrasts in colour and texture. I make images on found paper, metal, wood and glass anything that has a history, using a wet sgraffito technique to allow the image to emerge as if it was waiting to be found.

I have a Graphic Design (Illustration) BA (Hons) from Norwich University of the Arts and an MA in Sequential Design/Illustration from the University of Brighton. I teach Art and Photography at Chatsmore Catholic High School and Stained Glass at Greater Brighton Met (Northbrook campus)
